Seminars conducted:

Online International Webinar on Indo-US trade ties: Resetting strategy for a post Covid world was conducted from 7th Dec to 9th Dec 2020. The seminar was sponsored by the American Corner. 120 delegates (staff and students from various colleges) attended the same.

Report: The Department of Commerce at St. Francis College in association with the American Corner, Hyderabad organized a three day webinar from 7th December, 2020 to 9th December 2020 on Indo-US trade ties: Resetting strategy for a post Covid world.

Inaugural: The inaugural programme of the webinar commenced with Ms. Deepa James, Sr. Faculty member of the Department of Commerce welcoming all the guests and dignitaries attending the webinar. Sr. Sandra Horta, Principal St. Francis College congratulated the Department of Commerce and the American Corner for this initiative and blessed the proceedings of the webinar. Ms. Latha Subramanian, Head Dept of Commerce introduced the department to the participants highlighting the innovations particularly the initiatives of the student club, COFEE. An overview of the webinar was presented by Ms. Hari Kalyani. The department was privileged to welcome Guest of Honour - Consul General Joel Reifman for the Inaugural ceremony, who, in his address spoke about the greater partnerships between India and US in various fields of business and particularly people to people partnerships between the two countries. He appreciated the collaboration of St. Francis College with American Corner and extended his best wishes for the webinar.

The keynote address was delivered by the Hon. Sri. Jayesh Ranjan, Principal Secretary of the Industries & Commerce and IT departments of the Telangana Government! He emphasised the value propositions offered by India to the US by citing several examples in his talk. While he spoke about Indo US relations in the field of Information Technology, he also highlighted the significant contributions of the Defence and Aerospace industry. He focused on the factors like Indian talent, quality output and locational advantages which are favourable for strengthening Indo US ties. He concluded his address by expressing confidence in Indo US collaboration on various fronts, in the context of post covid operations particularly in the areas of knowledge exchange, use of Artificial Intelligence on a large scale, and diversified portfolios of product exchanges.

Day 1: The first session was on the theme India-US Trade Relationship: A historical background. The distinguished speaker for this session was Mr. Mohan Guruswamy, Chairman & Founder, Centre for Policy Alternatives and former advisor to the Finance Minister, Government of India (1998). In his address, he shared the history of trade between US and India and the depth of their trade relationship before and after the World War I and II. While talking about the importance of demography in achieving economic growth, he mentioned that India's prospects are more promising with the huge demographic dividend. He touched upon various historical incidents that had a great impact on the trade relations of US with rest of the world, especially India. Mr. Mohan Guruswamy opined that, India should devise strategies to ensure that the technology is wisely used to enhance production facilities in the country to woo the US market and to retain it with the quality production.

The speaker for the last session on day 1 was Mr. Erik Azulay, Executive Director at Nexus Incubator. The theme for this session was Innovation & Startups: Indo -US Ecosystems. He began his speech by highlighting how Indian Americans have been successful in their start-ups in US. He also spoke at length about “NEXUS” an incubator established for innovation and startups by the US Government in India. They have collaborations with various US Companies to assist the startups. Women Entrepreneurs are encouraged by Nexus and many programs are organized for them. Mr. Erik also gave an insight into the common mistakes committed by the entrepreneurs. He appreciated the schemes for startups initiated by the Government of India and asserted that the entrepreneurial activity will take a leap post pandemic.

Day 2: The first session on the second day of the webinar was delivered by Dr. A Patrick, Professor at Osmania University on the topic Indo US Trade – Challenges & Enablers. While he spoke about VUCA as a game changer, he also touched upon the concept of barriers to trade and identified some parameters such as starting the business, dealing with construction permits, trading across borders and resolving insolvency that improved India’s ranking by the World Bank as the prime challenges & enablers. He further mentioned that the key imperatives for India are to focus on FDI Cap, Ease of Doing Business, Patent Laws & Infrastructure whereas those for US are VISA policy, restriction in pharmaceutical and aviation segment and trade agreements. Dr. Patrick concluded his session by stating that strategic trade relationships would create a more meaningful partnership between India and US. This would not only facilitate deeper engagement in areas such as space exploration, climate change, and counter terrorism but also bring together dynamism and new thinking to create solutions to some of the most pressing problems the world is facing.

The topic for the next session was Indo US Trade – Fiscal Dimensions and Decisions. The speaker was Professor M. Usha, retired professor, Osmania University. Prof. Usha spoke about the role of Trade Taxes in both developed and developing countries. She mentioned a few of the trade issues bothering India and the US. She stated the need for both the countries to address Trade Tensions amicably. She concluded by saying that every country in the world should adopt an approach of Live and Let Live and recognise the fact that the whole world is a global village and the welfare of one rests in the welfare of all.

The last session on Day 2 of the webinar was on the theme Indo-US strategic Business Partnership – Post Covid scenario. The speaker for this session was Prof. Sudhir Sharan, Co-founder OWGI Foundation, Pune and VG Foundation, Bangalore. The address delivered by Prof Sudhir Sharan concentrated on three main points namely: The Indo- US relation facts over 3 and half decades, importance of sustainable development goals (SDG) and basic terms to concentrate on and their implications. He stressed upon the fact that over the past 35 years, the Indo-US relations have been improving year on year. While talking about the SDGs, he emphasized that 17 SDGs are integrated, that is, they recognize that action in one area will affect outcomes in others, and that development must balance social, economic and environmental sustainability. He further discussed the five major focus areas of sustainable development goals i.e Wind energy, solar energy, crop rotation, water efficient fixtures and green spaces. He concluded the session by projecting on comprehending the theoretical concepts and relating to the practical aspects of trade relations between India and US.

Day 3: The session on the theme U.S. India Trade – impact on South East India was delivered by Mr. Sean Ruthe, Pol-Econ Chief, US Consulate General Hyderabad. He highlighted the initiatives of the US Government and particularly the US Consulate in Hyderabad at improving ties between two countries. He also emphasised on the values of reciprocity especially in the area of cooperation even as we share a great relationship in all other fields. He also patiently took questions on a wide range of topics.

The valedictory program commenced by Dr. Shiny welcoming the distinguished guest Prof. V. Venkata Ramana, Vice-Chairman, TSCHE. He delivered the valedictory address on Integrating Indo-US Education Systems for Business Success. He established a framework for increasing collaborations with universities and institutions in other countries. He emphasised on the necessity for relationship building with alumnae as an important method to initiate academic and professional collaborations internationally as well as locally. He urged the Indian colleges and institutions to work towards establishing a fertile ecosystem for innovation and entrepreneurship.

After the valedictory speech, the report of the three-day international webinar was presented by Ms. Madhura on behalf of the organising committee. This was followed by a brief address by Ms. Ingrid Specht, Assistant Public Affairs Officer at the U.S. Consulate, Hyderabad. The session came to an end by Prof. Venkata Rama Sir's concluding remarks on the webinar followed by Vote of Thanks proposed by Dr. Shiny.

The webinar, attended by 120 participants, helped building perspectives on a wide variety of subjects related to the theme. With hope to continue more actionable deliberations in the future that may help bringing greater economic and trade ties between the two countries for the welfare of all people, the webinar concluded with the National Anthem.
